

The Army Museum of South Australia, situated at Keswick Barracks was established in 1992 and is open to the public on Mondays, Wednesdays and Sundays. The Museum highlights South Australia's military history from its beginnings in 1840 to the present day.

Static and interactive displays within the Museum include:

- One of the finest medal and badge collections in Australia.
- WWI commemorations include Australian soldiers at Gallipoli and the Western Front as well as the Australian Light Horse campaign in Palestine.
- WWII commemorations for the valiant efforts of Australian Militia and Infantry troops in halting the Japanese advance at Kokoda.
- The history of Australian women who played their part in all wars since WWI.

A variety of military vehicles including tanks and armoured cars surround the Museum.

For further information visit www.amosa.org.au or our Facebook page AMOSA Museum, Keswick.

To book group and school tours contact the Functions Manager on 0438 875 900 or amosafunctions@gmail.com

The Museum is open on Sundays 12.00-4.00pm; Mondays 11.00-2.00pm (except for Public Holidays) and Wednesdays 11.00-2.00pm. Admission fees apply.

The Keswick Barracks Heritage Walk which includes a tour and historical information about the Barracks' buildings which date back to the early 1900s, is available every Sunday at 2.00pm

The Archive and Research Centre will also be open on these days.
Phone (08) 8305 6705 for an appointment.

South Australia
has a proud
military history

Explore it at the Army Museum of
South Australia,
Keswick Barracks

Pre-Federation to World War I

Making jam tin bombs Gallipoli

World War II

The Golden Stairs Kokoda Track

Cheer Up Hut piano covered in signatures of visiting servicemen

Group/School Tours

WWI Vickers machine gun

Exploring the 'Ferret'

Medal Display

Recent Conflicts

Medivac Vietnam

On patrol in Afghanistan

Outdoor displays

Museum exterior display